EPA is the process of investigating the Site. Multiple efforts have been made, and will continue to be made to understand the extent of contamination on the Wilcox Site.

Various sampling techniques are used to understand conditions on the Site.

The crew that was working during the month of August was performing soil gas sampling.

The purpose of the soil gas sampling is to determine if gasses associated with potential areas of contamination are migrating upwards towards the surface.

Yes - I would like to know specifically what you did in bristow in August. A crew was there in the neighborhood doing something.

Thanks

Hi Janna,

Erin asked me to respond since she is out in the field today.

We are still in the remedial investigation phase, which is part of our continued effort with EPA to investigate the site and determine the extent of contamination.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Thanks.

EPA was on site so you might want to check with them for info and updates.

Thanks,

Erin

What was done at the Bristow Superfund Site last week? And what is next for that site?

Thank you.
